Janicki Industries Passes Nadcap Audit for Composite Manufacturing

December 11, 2017, Sedro-Woolley, WA - Janicki Industries (Janicki) has been approved for Nadcap accreditation until 2020. Nadcap accreditation indicates that Janicki's Hamilton Facility is a qualified manufacturer of composite parts and tools. Janicki has made several capital investments that helped ensure this accreditation. We have implemented non-destructive inspection equipment and processes; We have added advance testing equipment to our research and development lab; And we have expanded our Class 8 Clean Room by 50% to accommodate larger parts and greater production speed.

This Janicki Industries Hamilton facility is located on SR 20, in Hamilton, WA.

Janicki Industries is one of only eleven composite suppliers in Washington State that are Nadcap approved to make composite parts. And we are one of four suppliers who have achieved twenty-four months merit. This means our manufacturing process controls are so excellent the auditors have certified Janicki for two years, rather than the one year normally applied.

Director of Quality Assurance of Janicki Industries, Bill Vaith, says, "This Nadcap qualification shows our aerospace customers that JI is premium supplier of composite parts and tools and that we meet the most stringent process requirements for manufacturing with advanced composite materials."

President of Janicki Industries, John Janicki, says, "We are pleased to achieve 24-month merit on our Nadcap certification and our customers can trust Janicki for their most challenging carbon-fiber composite fly-away parts."
